

A diagram showing a directory structure. A large light blue rectangle contains two smaller white rectangles with black borders. The first white rectangle is labeled 'src'. The second white rectangle is labeled 'include' and has a red border. To the right of these two rectangles, within the same light blue area, is the text 'sarafun_bt_nodes_test'.

src

include

sarafun_bt_nodes_test